

FEDERALS WILL COME TO NORTHChihuahua Looks for Them; Many Robbers in Chi-hua City.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Feb. 28.—(By Courier.)—Reports have been current for some days pertaining to a large body of federals which will arrive shortly for duty in this vicinity. No one seems to know where the rumor emanated from, but it is given credence by quite a number of people. The name of Gen. Geronimo Trevino, it is said, has been mentioned as commander of the federal troops and that the old tactics of Gen. Diaz will be put into vogue, which means that they will take no prisoners.

The guards about the state palace have been reduced to a very small number and one is free to pass at any hour of the day or night without being accosted.

Holdups Common.
Holdups are so common in this city now that hardly a night goes by but that some one is not stabbed in the back or hit with a blunt instrument and their valuables taken.

Never in the city's history has travel, even in the immediate confines, been as unsafe as now. Daylight holdups are of common occurrence and it is not unusual to find oneself looking into the business end of a revolver or rifle carried in the hands of a crew of desperate men.

Riding his horse along the road leading to the city from Nomme de Dios at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Guadalupe Hidalgo, a ranchman, was held up by an armed band who demanded that he dismount and hand over $200. Hidalgo manifested that he had no money and, mounting the heels of his coat and trousers inside out to prove it. "Well, that being the case," said the robber, "your horse will do as well," and, mounting the steed, he rode leisurely away.

Robbers Wound a Victim.
While on his way home in the evening Trinidad Aldama, a clerk in the employ of a large grocery house in this city, was held up and robbed in the left shoulder by one of two assailants at the corner of Aldama and Twenty-seventh street. Aldama succeeded in driving the robbers off afterward walking to the center of the city, where he took a coach and rode about the city for two hours searching for a doctor to dress his wounded shoulder. The injury is slight.

Viva for Zapata Arrested.
Four criminal members of a Bacchic club located in the "midnight son" district, promenade up and down the brilliantly lighted thoroughfares shouting with might and main "Viva Zapata." Their physical equilibrations were much the same as those of the average habitue of the district, so someone telephoned the police department and 40 rurales did the rest.

MEXICO SURPRISED THAT
PORT OF JUAREZ NOT CLOSED
Mexico City, Mex., March 1.—Government officials express surprise at the reported action of the United States in refusing the petition of Mexico for the closing of Juarez against American commerce.

Minister of foreign relations Manuel Calero asserted that inasmuch as he had received no official communication from the ambassador at Washington, he was inclined to believe the finality of the action of the officials at Washington.

"I have again wired the ambassador," said he, "and have advised him of the report published here, with instructions to furnish me an official confirmation or denial."

RURALS AND REBELS IN A SKIRMISH NEAR OJINAGA.
Marfa, Tex., March 1.—The first skirmish incident to the rebel advance on Ojinaga occurred at San Antonio, Mexico, several miles south of the border. The advance guard of the rebels was defeated, but when the main body of rebel troops under the command of Emilio Ramirez came up, the 35 rurales and volunteers retreated to Ojinaga. Several are reported killed. Three wounded rurales were brought to the American bank of the Rio Grande.

JUAN FRANCO ARRESTED IN
JUAREZ BUT IS RELEASED
Juan Franco went to Juarez and got in jail. Juan has been in jail frequently, because he used to be county jailer of El Paso. Later he was a secret service agent for Diaz and the Mexicans thought he was still in the same business, but he convinced them that he was not and got out of the Juarez jail.

"TO GEN. SALAZAR"
(By E. O'Neal.)
Where are all those warlike "bandits,"
Who dare rumor said were near?
In their stead come men of honor
In whose hearts there seems no fear.

Since they come like men, not "bandits,"
Let us speak of them in that way.
In the name of right they'll conquer,
Vasquez's men will win the day.

Three cheers for the stalwart captain,
Who has sworn peace to maintain.
In the capture of an old Juarez,
Where discipline once did reign.

Mourning not for the fallen city,
Since the fall seems for the best;
Come, let's give a hearty handshake
To Salazar and all the rest.

MILLS POST NOTICE OF INCREASED PAY

Strikers Reduce Number of Pickets at Lawrence, Mass.

Lawrence, Mass., March 1.—The end of the great textile strike, involving 20,000 operatives, which began on January 12, is thought to be in sight.
Many of the mills have posted notices of an advance in wages of at least five percent. The advance will affect nearly 20,000 operatives in Lawrence and vicinity.

A scarcity of strikers doing picket duty was apparent during the hours preceding the time for beginning work. There appeared to be a slight increase in the number of people entering the various mills.

A party of children who have worked in the mills and who have been requested to appear before the congressional committee in Washington tomorrow, left this city at 7:11 a. m. today.

The general strike committee of the Industrial Workers voted to insist on their original demands of wage increase of 15 percent, double pay for overtime work, the abolition of the premium system and no discrimination against strikers.

A committee of the strikers went to Boston to meet the mill owners.
